ALHAMBRA ORCHESTRA

The Alhambra Orchestra is Miami's community orchestra, now in its 31st season. Its mission is to provide live performances, free or at low cost, to our community, as well as to support music education for people of all ages. The orchestra is supported by donations and grants. Contributions are gratefully accepted.

Greater Miami Youth Symphony

The Greater Miami Youth Symphony (GMYS), now in its 62nd year, normally serves approximately 700 children per year, ages 5-18, with 14 beginning band and orchestra instrument classes, eight ensembles, and four summer camp programs. Once children progress to a minimum level of competence with their instruments, they join weekly beginning band and beginning orchestra ensembles and learn to play together in a group. Since March of 2020, GMYS has maintained lively, innovative online summer camp and regular-season programs to keep the music coming for our community. The students you see onstage today are members of the most advanced group, Symphony Orchestra, directed by Huifang Chen. GMYS is the recipient of generous funding from The Children's Trust.
